OUR CENOTE DIVING PHILOSOPHY

Caverns are an advanced diving environment. To maximize your enjoyment and safety, we choose not to combine groups of divers who do not know each other. All cavern tours are 100% private - it's just you and your chosen buddies diving at your pace and comfort level. The maximum number of divers with a guide is three. Divers may also request additional guides to maintain a lower guide-to-instructor ratio. We also ask that divers have a minimum of 20 logged dives before their first cavern dive and that they have dived within the last six months.

WHAT'S INCLUDED?

- Two cavern dives
- Entrance fees (some cenotes have surcharges due to high entrance fees, these are listed below)
- Tanks with 32% nitrox, weights, and cavern lights
- Transportation from the dive center to the cenotes and back. We can provide transportation from lodgings in Puerto Aventuras. Pick-ups from other locations may be possible as a courtesy, dependent upon location and guide. Please ask.
- Water

WHAT'S NOT INCLUDED?

- * Picnic lunch of tortas (Mexican sandwiches) is available for $5 USD
- * Lunch at a local restaurant is available for $15 USD for solo divers, or $10 USD/diver for groups, alcohol not included
- * Gear rental $25 USD/set. Check our rental gear list for individual items
- * Porter service available for $600 pesos/day, cash only
- * Camera/drone fees are additional for most sites, email for most current prices
- * Three-dive days are available with a $100 USD surcharge for a single diver and a $80 USD surcharge per diver for groups

WHAT DIVE SITES DO WE VISIT?

As we offer private service with no fixed schedule, divers may pick the dive sites they would like to visit, provided that the site is As we offer private service with no fixed schedule, divers may pick the dive sites they would like to visit, provided that the site is within their certification and skill level. Most sites are appropriate for open-water certified divers. Some sites require advanced open-water certification, and a few cannot be your first cavern dive of the trip due to their difficult nature, per community standards. We also have a few off-the-beaten-path sites that are not currently open to the public and are available to experienced divers.
